Turn-Taking

Turn-taking is an important skill that not only helps build social skills but is also the foundation of conversational skills. Here is a video demonstrating how to work on turn-taking skills.

Option A: Most games can be used to work on turn-taking. Some examples: Pop-Up Pirate, Hungry Crocodile, Pop the Pig, Honeybee Tree, Save the Penguin, rolling/throwing a foam/Ping-Pong ball into paper cups, mark squares on the floor using masking tape & throw disks/plastic chips into the squares, cars, building with blocks/Legos.

Option B: Play table-top games with your child: Candy Land, Snakes & Ladders, LIFE, Trouble, Sorry.

Play any of these games with your child and encourage taking turns. As you take turns, say "It's my turn. Whose turn is it next?" to encourage your child to participate verbally. Use these visuals for support.
